Move over eBay, now there's something trendier! Meet Christabelle and her fashionable friends who scour people's closets across the country for designer name brands.

In Christabelle's Closet, you'll find names such as Chanel, Prada, Gucci, Dior and other high-end labels that you'd normally buy at Neimans, Saks, Fred Segal and Scoop. You can shop until you drop for handbags, shoes, accessories, formal, casual and business wear and if you're in the mood to spoil your sweetie (whoever that would be), raid the closet for menswear, baby or pet items.

You can also put your hot trends on consignment (if they are up-to-par) to be included in Christabelle's high-end resale shop. Christabelle and her friends will then decide what they can sell to their clientele who have very high expectations and shopping preferences. Just like a fashionista should!

What's even better is that not only can you benefit from all this bargain hunting- if you buy anything in the Clearance Closet, half of the proceeds go to The Michael J. Fox Foundation to support Parkinson's Research.

So get those pretty little fingers a tapping. New merchandise is posted weekly and is just clicks away. Look like a million dollars, spend it not!
